VISITS THE EAST SIDE

President Roosevelt Attends Republican Club Banquet.

GUARDED BY POLICE.

Congressman Sulzer, One of Guests, Said He Was a Democrat, but Endorsed Executive in Some of His Acts.

New York, Feb. 15.—After two days' receptions and dinners in New York City, President Roosevelt left over the Pennsylvania road for Washington.

The events of Tuesday included a reception at the University club and at night the event of his visit, the dinner given by the Hungarian Republican club at the restaurant "Little Hungary" on the East Side, where a president has never been before. The fact that Mr. Roosevelt was to visit places where he has not been since he was governor of New York, and where no other president, while in office, has been, led to unusual police precautions, but nothing untoward happened.

From the time the president arrived on the East Side tonight until his departure the greatest precautions were taken for his safety.

When the president drove up to Little

St. Petersburg Paper Says It Is No Wonder the Senate Opposes Executive's Ideas in Regard to Treaties.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 15.—The Novoe Vremya, in a sarcastic editorial on the action of the United States senate in connection with arbitration treaties, pokes fun at the alleged attempt of the United States to take the leadership in the world's diplomacy. The editorial reviews the plan for preserving the administrative entity of China by the proposed naval demonstration in Turkish waters, the establishment of the republic of Panama and the proposition to hold a second peace conference at The Hague, "concluding with cornucopia arbitration treaties, the whole idea of which," the paper says, "has finally met the fate which always overtakes a new fad. Therefore, it is not to be wondered at that the senate

Hungary he fulfilled a promise made to members of the Hungarian Republican club several years ago.

In the carriage with the president were Marcus Braun, president of the Hungarian Republican club, whose guest Mr. Roosevelt was; Police Commissioner McArdoo and Secretary Loeb. Amid cries of "Eliz!" and playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," Mr. Brown proposed the president's health.

"I present," he said, "the man who gives everybody a square deal, no more, no less."

The applause was deafening as the president arose and faced the crowded room, and his remarks were literally applauded.

Congressman Sulzer delivered a speech which excited great enthusiasm. Opening his remarks by a tribute to the Americanism of President Roosevelt, who he declared to be president of the whole people, Mr. Sulzer avowed that although he was a Democrat and always would be one, he would continue to ardently support President Roosevelt's fight for certain needed reforms.

Continuing, Mr. Sulzer said: "I shall stand by him in his fight against the senate of the United States. He is right in the senatorial controversy and I believe the American people will uphold and sustain him in his fair and just contention."

Jackson Regarded by Residents of That City as Being Eccentric.

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 15.—William Waldorf Jackson, Jr., who sought to have a talk at New York Tuesday with President Roosevelt about governmental reforms, is well known in this city, where he has resided for many years. He is regarded as an eccentric, but in no respect a dangerous person.

His persistent claim that he has a mission to reform the national politics and that some day he expects to be president, for a long time have been familiar to Lowell residents. He has announced his candidacy independent of any party or persons on several occasions. Jackson was formerly a traveling preacher, but was never ordained so far as known. There is not Hotel Hamilton here. Jackson lives at a boarding house, but has no regular occupation.

SISTERS BURNED.

Frightful Fate of Two Young Girls Five Miles South of Texarkana.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 15.—A special to the Gazette from Texarkana says that Marguerite, aged sixteen years, and Mamie, aged five years, daughters of Ettian Brewer, a farmer living five miles south of here, were burned to death. Mamie was standing in front of the fire when her dress caught fire, growing to a big blaze in half a minute. She ran screaming into the yard but was pursued by her sister, who, in a heroic but fruitless effort to save her, sustained such injuries that she died four hours later. Mamie was frightfully burned and died in half an hour.

Frozen to Death.

Georgetown, Tex., Feb. 15.—James McReynolds, aged seventy years, with a large family here, was found dead at a wood camp near Georgetown. He is supposed to have frozen to death. He had made application to enter the Confederate home at Austin.

TROTZKI CHURCH, ST. PETERSBURG.

declines to yield to a scheme which placed the settlement of future disputes entirely in the hands of President Roosevelt.

M. Souverin, editor of the Novoe Vremya, in discussing the proposed assembling of the zemsky zabor, quotes the view of a very high personage close to the emperor as outlining a plan by which outlying districts would be treated as are the colonies of the United States, but maintaining the principle of unrestricted suffrage, declaring a mujik has as much right to vote as a university graduate, and saying it is essential that proceedings be conducted in Russia. This personage figures that the zemsky zabor will consist of 1500 members. Upon the question as to when the zemsky zabor will be initiated he made no definite statement, saying the date had not been determined upon, whether now or at the end of the war.

In view of the continued attacks on and criticism of General Kupropatkin, which are prejudicial to Russian arms, the Novoe Vremya in an extended defense of the tactics of the command-in-chief, proposed that a commission composed of retired officers be appointed to pass judgment on the general.

"FRIGHTENED FLEET."

Two Russian Naval Officers Referred to as "Bedchamber Admirals."

Paris, Feb. 15.—French special correspondents sent to meet the French steamer Australian having on board General Stoessel and other survivors of Port Arthur forwarded a delayed account of discord among Russian officers. The army officers particularly are hostile to the fleet, habitually calling it the "frightened fleet." Admiral Lockinsky, who was commander of the torpedo defenses at Port Arthur, is lengthily quoted as making bitter criticism of General Stoessel, Admiral Alexieff and others. The Matin quotes Lockinsky as characterizing Vice Admiral Stark and Rear Admiral Witthoft as "bedchamber admirals," not acquainted with their duties and seasick whenever aloft. The admiral added that Vice Admiral Skrydloff prudently established himself ashore at Vladivostok notwithstanding his opportunity to break the ineffective blockade of Port Arthur. Lockinsky declared he would denounce Stoessel, Skrydloff and Alexieff before the courtmartial, as he did not intend to himself be made a scapegoat like Rear Admiral Outomsky, "who now trembles with fear in a Chinese hospital." Lockinsky cited many instances of unpreparedness of land and naval defenses, frequent conflicts of authority and demoralization during critical engagements. Substantially the same account is given in four French newspapers which sent correspondents.

Correspondents describe Stoessel and Lockinsky as refusing to speak to or salute each other. Papers say the discord among officers foreshadowed grave scenes before the courtmartial. Le Petit Parisien quotes General Stoessel as sarcastically saying: "Rojastvensky had better not establish a too secure base along the route or, like the naval officers at Port Arthur, it will be impossible to let them venture seaward." The correspondent of Le Petit Parisien adds: "General Stoessel cannot pardon the navy's failure to enclose him, while the navy fully returns his hatred."

French special correspondents conclude that the fortress fell largely be-

The negro question is very slowly, but surely solving itself. With the advent of foreign laborers into the South, gradual preparation is going forward for the negro's final and inevitable deportation.

A Madisonville dispatch in yesterday's papers says that Bud Dean, a young man who lives at Neal, while endeavoring to butcher a hog, made a mislick and stabbed himself in the thigh, severing an artery and producing his death a few hours later.

President Roosevelt, in a speech in New York, last Tuesday, said some beautiful things about the South and Southern people. The president is undoubtedly growing in favor down this way, and it behooves him to express such feelings if he has them.

The main feature of the Williams intangible assets bill is its provision for the assessment of railway and express companies and such like institutions by a State board instead of its being left to county officials. This seems, at casual view, to be a sensible proposition.

Father J. M. Kirwin will lecture on Wednesday, Feb. 22, at the Carnegie hall, in Bryan, on the subject: "The Masterpieces of the World's Art." Father Kirwin is too well known as an orator and a scholar to need commendation to Bryan people. His power over an audience is wonderful. Music by excellent home talent will be a feature of the evening. Don't forget the date—Washington's birthday.

To this date, four cars of seed Irish potatoes have been brought to Bryan. Some of the German farmers have already planted potatoes, and covered them deep enough, so that it is thought the seed were unharmed by the late freeze. Others are ready to plant, and the crop of Irish potatoes to go in the ground this year in Brazos county is going to be something creditable, and will give the truck business a good start. Among those who are to plant potatoes for market are the following, who will plant from one to five acres, an aggregate of about forty-five acres. But this does not represent all that will be planted: T. P. Hall, J. J. Vandiver, J. H. White, I. M. Cook, W. F. Jones, Gus Stevener, E. Stevener, W. E. Merideth, Tom Syptak, Frank Stasney, R. L. ### A GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

Mr. A. B. Shelburne told the Eagle reporter yesterday that he had been married, to use his language, "fifty years today."

Mr. Shelburne is a good, strong, healthy man—strong morally as well as physically. It is a pleasure to see such a man blessed with so many days. Fifty years ago, yesterday, he was married at Independence, Washington county, Texas, to Miss Eliza M. Coles, and the name of the officiating minister was H. L. Graves. With the wife of his youth he has lived fifty good honorable years. They have had born to them five children, all of whom are living; the oldest being 47 years old, and the youngest 25. Mr. Shelburne is 69 years old, and his wife nearly 63. They would have celebrated their golden wedding yesterday, but for the illness of Mrs. Shelburne; but the state of her health would not permit. They have no scarcity of friends who will regret that the opportunity was missed to help them celebrate the happiness of a fiftieth wedding anniversary.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

Edge Bros. and N. Jametta at Law Over a Shoe Shop.

Quite a little interest has been felt in a suit in justice court by Edge Bros., to dispossess N. Jametta of a portion of the store building occupied by them, Mr. Jametta using the space referred to for a shoe shop. Edge Bros. entered suit in Justice Mitchell's court against Jametta for possession of the premises and charging him with forcible detainer. The case came to trial before a jury on the 8th of February, with the result of a mistrial on account of the jury's failure to agree on a verdict. On second trial, the next day, the same result ensued, and on the 14th (last Tuesday) the third trial resulted in a verdict for Jametta, allowing him to retain the shop. This trial was also by jury. On yesterday morning it is alleged that Edge Bros. removed Jametta's belongings from the shop and piled them on the sidewalk, where they attracted a great deal of attention during the day. Jametta on yesterday made a complaint against J. H. and L. E. Edge, before County Attorney Nagle, and had them arrested, charged with malicious mischief. They were placed under bond of $100 each to appear at the next term of the county court. Jametta's shoes and other belongings still occupied a part of the sidewalk at last accounts yesterday afternoon.

Hyomei the Only Cure for Catarrh which Returns Your Money if Not Satisfactory.

It is seldom that a druggist has enough faith in the medicine he sells even when prepared by himself to be willing to refund the money if it does not cure; but Hyomei has cured so many cases of catarrh among the customers of E. J. Jenkins that he offers to refund the money to all who use it and report that they are not satisfied.

Hyomei is the simplest and most convenient remedy for catarrh ever offered to the public. Breathed through an inhaler so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, for a few minutes four times a day, it will absolutely kill all the germs of catarrh and cure the disease. Catarrh cannot exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two-fold action, killing all the germs in the air passages and lungs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Some of the most prominent men and women of the country have gladly given testimonials to Hyomei. After seeking relief in vain for years this wonderful remedy has cured them of catarrh, and it is no wonder that they want others to know of it. D. O. Groff, editor of the Nicholasville, Ky. News writes: "Ever since I was a young man I have been troubled with catarrh, and in later years the disease became unbearable. Hyomei has helped me so much that I wish to publicly speak of its merits, so that others afflicted as I have been may be likewise benefited."

If you have catarrh, accept E. J. Jenkins' proposition and use Hyomei. The complete outfit of Hyomei costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

The Bryan Retail Merchants Association met yesterday afternoon, at the city hall, with the president, Ed Crenshaw, in the chair, and Secretary E. F. Parks at the desk. The Wilson & Edge big dry goods sale opened yesterday and gave general satisfaction to everybody except those who could not get into the store at several different times during the day on account of the house being "full up." The Eagle reporter made a tour of the store and found things arranged in true city style, with counters divided and partitioned off where goods were arranged according to values and the low prices announced on placards. Lots of people were busy conning the articles and purchasing the things that interested them. The sale continues nine days longer. A large announcement appears elsewhere in this paper, expressing the managers' feelings after the first day's rush, and explaining how it was. These announcements are made fresh each day, and will be found to be interesting reading.

Bill to prohibit dealing in cotton futures was considered by house committee on state affairs. Many brokers are here opposing it.

It is alleged the letters requested that the brother secure steel saws and bring them to the prison and a string would be dropped, to which they were to be tied. The man who carried this letter was acquitted on a charge, but has been rearrested awaiting action of grand jury. ## We Owe the People an Apology!

We sincerely regret that we were compelled to close the doors from time to time during the day on account of the heavy crowds that packed up our floor space to its limits. It was really more than we anticipated for the first day. However, there are nine more days in which every resident within one hundred miles from here will have ample time to call once more.

We will be prepared, no matter how large the crowds, to handle the masses, an extra additional force of efficient and sufficient help will be there to wait on you.

We not only owe an apology to the people, but owe thanks to the many thousands who attended our opening day, we owe our thanks to the entire community for its good judgement in availing themselves of the many bargains offered. When we say to you that we sell as we advertise, we do it, for our reputation is at stake, and our immense capital involved in our establishment will not permit us to do otherwise.

We will expect in the remaining nine days to see every man, woman and child attend this sale, and a new record will be forever established in Bryan's commercial annals, long to be remembered by the buying public.
